A close-up photograph of a black and white calibration target or ruler. It features a series of bold, black numbers and symbols arranged in a grid-like pattern on a light background. The visible elements include the number '9' at the top left, followed by '20' below it. To the right of '9' are several smaller, stylized symbols resembling the letter 'L' or '7'. Further right, there are more numbers: '20', '22', and '23'. At the very bottom, the number '20' is printed again. The overall appearance is that of a technical or scientific reference tool.

A color calibration target, likely a Munsell Color Services Lab chart, featuring a grayscale step wedge and color patches. The grayscale patches are labeled 1 through 25, with 1 being white and 25 being black. The color patches are labeled with their respective Munsell colorimetric values (hue, chroma, and brightness).

A large, bold, black letter 'M' is centered on a white background. The letter is thick and blocky, with a slight shadow or gradient effect, giving it a three-dimensional appearance. It is positioned in the upper right quadrant of the frame. The background is a plain, light gray or off-white surface. The overall composition is minimalist and graphic.

A close-up of a calibration target, likely a ruler or scale, showing a grid of numbers and lines. The numbers are arranged in a pattern that suggests a measurement scale, with values ranging from 1.0 to 2.5. The target is used for ensuring the accuracy of the printed document.

A 3x3 grid of numbers from 1 to 9, rotated 45 degrees clockwise. The numbers are arranged in a pattern that suggests a magic square, but the specific arrangement is not clearly legible due to the rotation and image quality.
